STRONG INTERNATIONAL CONNECTIONS

Koç University offers a Double Degree Program in cooperation with the prestigious Darla Moore School of Business at the University of South Carolina. This joint master's program allows students to graduate with two different degrees from two different universities: Koç University Master of Science in International Management (MIM) and USC Master of International Business (MIB).

The Double Degree Program allows highly qualified students to further enhance their business competence, cultural and social skills. It is also a unique chance for students to study from a truly international perspective, develop diversity of thought, and in doing so, enhance their possibilities in the international labor market.
